Technical drawing of a mechanical assembly, likely a gear or a similar rotating component, showing two views: a front view (01) and a side view (02).

The drawing includes the following labeled components and features:

- 01: Front view of the component, showing a circular profile with internal features.
- 02: Side view of the component, showing a circular profile with internal features.
- 03: A small rectangular feature, possibly a pin or a screw head, located near the bottom of the side view (02).
- 04: A curved line or feature, possibly a fillet or a transition, located near the top of the side view (02).
- 05: A small circular feature, possibly a hole or a pin, located near the top of the side view (02).
- 06: A small circular feature, possibly a hole or a pin, located near the top of the side view (02).
- 07: A small circular feature, possibly a hole or a pin, located near the top of the side view (02).
- 08: A small circular feature, possibly a hole or a pin, located near the top of the side view (02).
- 09: A small circular feature, possibly a hole or a pin, located near the top of the side view (02).
- 10: A small circular feature, possibly a hole or a pin, located near the top of the side view (02).
- 11: A small circular feature, possibly a hole or a pin, located near the top of the side view (02).
- 12: A small circular feature, possibly a hole or a pin, located near the top of the side view (02).
- 13: A small circular feature, possibly a hole or a pin, located near the top of the side view (02).
- 14: A small circular feature, possibly a hole or a pin, located near the top of the side view (02).
- 15: A small circular feature, possibly a hole or a pin, located near the top of the side view (02).
- 16: A small circular feature, possibly a hole or a pin, located near the top of the side view (02).
- 17: A small circular feature, possibly a hole or a pin, located near the top of the side view (02).
